THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The centuries-old pageantry of the academic procession comes from ancient tradition, rooted in the early universities. The solemn procession before you is the college's way of giving depth and distinction to the commencement of these men and women.

Academic caps, gowns and hoods date back to the twelfth century, developing gradually from the long flowing robes that the teachers wore to protect themselves from the cold of the medieval buildings. Since the scholars of the time were usually clerics, their robes differed little from those used by the church orders. Slowly, certain styles were designated for the universities and these, with minor modifications, are the costumes worn today. Hoods were originally fashioned after the monk's cowl; the mortarboard cap, with its tassels, evolved from the skull caps of the scholar-monks.

In France, where the degree program probably began, wearing the cap and gown marked the formal admission of the "licentiate" to the body of masters. In our country, caps and gowns have been used since colonial times. Columbia University, or King's College as it was then called, began this custom at an early date. New York University, the University of Pennsylvania and others followed, and in 1894 a commission representing the leading American colleges met to discuss academic ceremonies. A year later, the intercollegiate code was adopted. Today, more than 700 colleges and universities in the United States, Canada, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Turkey and others follow this code. Standard styles in caps, gowns, and hoods for Doctors, Masters and Bachelors were established.

In recent years, distinctively colored gowns have been authorized for specific schools. For example, the Columbia gown is slate gray, the New York University gown is violet, the Yale gown is blue, the Harvard is crimson and The City University of New York gown is navy blue. The hoods worn over the shoulders and down the backs of the members of faculty reveal the degrees and institutions of the wearers. The velvet binding or edging is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The silk lining of the hood is in the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The shortest hood is the Bachelor's; the longest and broadest is the Doctor's; and the Master's is midway between these in size. In the colors of the colleges, there is much duplication and it would be useless to identify them. However, there is a standard color for the subject and the degree, indicated by the velvet edging which shows in front and over the shoulders, and the most common of these are given below:

COLOR CODE FOR HOODS

Arts, Letters, Humanities.....	White	Medicine	Pink
Commerce, Business	Drab	Music	Silver Gray
Economics.....	Copper	Pharmacy	Olive Green
Education	Light Blue	Philosophy	Dark Blue
Engineering	Orange	Physical Education	Sage Green
Fine Arts.....	Brown	Public Administration.....	Peacock Blue
Law.....	Purple	Science	Golden Yellow
Library Science	Lemon	Social Work	Citron
Medicine	Green	Theology	Scarlet

THE MACE

The mace, a traditional part of every academic ceremony, is a heavy staff used as a symbol of authority. It is carried by the leader of the procession, who is referred to as the Mace Bearer or the Grand Marshal.

In early Roman days the mace, carried by officers called lictors, consisted of a bundle of rods known as fasces that showed the authority of the magistrates. In medieval times, the mace was wielded in legislative assemblies to protect officials.

In the United States House of Representatives the mace is about three feet long, made of ebony rods with a band of silver. A silver globe stands on a protruding rod, and a silver eagle with wings outspread sits on top of the globe.

The John Jay College mace was created in 1968 by Anthony T. Muratore, a student and police detective. It is 29 inches long, in blue and gold, and bears the seal of the College and the seal of The City University of New York at its pinnacle.

THE HONORARY DEGREES

John Jay College of Criminal Justice honors two distinguished individuals who have enlightened society by their commitment to the principles of academic excellence and understanding for all.

ROBERT KATZMANN Doctor of Laws

Judge Robert Katzmann, a career-long champion of the rights of immigrants in the legal system, is Chief Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, a position he assumed on September 1, 2013.

Judge Katzmann conceived of and sparked the creation of the Immigrant Justice Corps, the country's first fellowship program dedicated to meeting the critical need for high-quality legal assistance for immigrants. Providing effective and pro bono representation of the immigrant poor who have worthy claims, the Immigrant Justice Corps recruits talented lawyers and college graduates from around the country and partners them with New York City's leading nonprofit legal services providers and community-based organizations. The IJC offers a broad range of immigration assistance including naturalization, deportation defense and affirmative applications for asylum seekers, juveniles, and victims of crime, violence or human trafficking.

Aided by more than $1.3 million in funding from the Robin Hood Foundation, a poverty-fighting philanthropy, the Immigrant Justice Corps plans to hire a cadre of 25 lawyers every year, who will be assisted by recent college graduates with multilingual skills. Organizers estimate that by its third year, the IJC will be handling more than 15,000 cases a year, about double the number of immigration cases currently handled by nonprofits in New York City.

A political scientist as well as a lawyer and jurist, Judge Katzmann is a prolific scholar, who was honored with the American Political Science Association's Charles Edward Merriam Award in 2001 for his "significant contribution to the art of government through the application of social science research." Among his important books are Regulatory Bureaucracy: The Federal Trade Commission and Antitrust Policy (1981); Institutional Disability: The Saga of Transportation Policy for the Disabled (1986), and Courts and Congress (1997). He was editor and project director of The Law Firm and the Public Good (1995), and editor and contributing editor of Judges and Legislators. His most recent book, Judging Statutes (Oxford University Press, 2014), has been praised by retired Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens as "illuminating and convincing" and "required reading for all lawyers confronting questions of statutory construction.

A New York native, and the son of a refugee from Nazi Germany, Judge Katzmann received his bachelor's degree summa cum laude in 1973 from Columbia University, his master's and doctorate in government from Harvard University in 1976 and 1978, respectively, and his J.D. in 1980 from the Yale Law School. At the time of his appointment to the Second Circuit bench, he was Walsh Professor of Government, Professor of Law and Professor of Public Policy at Georgetown University.

He has been recognized for his scholarly work and his public service on numerous occasions. Named a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 2003, Judge Katzmann has also been awarded the Federal Bar Council's Learned Hand Medal for Excellence in Federal Jurisprudence; the Chesterfield Smith Award of the Pro Bono Institute, and the Stanley H. Fuld Award from the New York State Bar Association.

Judge Katzmann stood boldly, and nearly alone, in using the prestige of his office to push for more and better legal representation of immigrants. For his lifetime of dedication to public service and equal justice under the law, John Jay College of Criminal Justice confers upon Robert Katzmann the degree of doctor of laws, honoris causa.

WILLIAM RAMIREZ

Doctorate of Laws

A true “up-by-the bootstraps” success story, William Ramirez has risen from a working-class upbringing in the South Bronx to become the Executive Director of the American Civil Liberties Union of Puerto Rico, and one of the fiercest advocates for justice in the island commonwealth.

Mr. Ramirez was the founding Vice President of the ACLU-Puerto Rico and in 2004 he became its Executive Director. In that role he has dedicated himself to reforming the Puerto Rican Police Department and to exposing and ending a culture of abuse and corruption. He promptly embarked on an island-wide investigation of alleged human rights abuses directed at homeless drug users participating in federally funded needle-exchange programs. He has also led the Gender Violence Police Accountability project, training hundreds of independent monitors of police compliance with federally mandated domestic violence protocols.

The unflinching advocacy conducted by Mr. Ramirez and the ACLU led charges being filed against the Puerto Rican Police Department with the U.S. Justice Department’s Civil Rights Division, and the publication of a National ACLU report, “Island of Impunity: Puerto Rico’s Outlaw Police Force.” In 2013, a federal court-supervised consent order was issued for sustainable reform of the PRPD. These efforts by Mr. Ramirez and the ACLU-Puerto Rico have been undertaken despite threats directed at him and his organization. In 2006, and again in 2008, the ACLU office was broken into and ransacked at a time when the United Nations and the Justice Department were looking into allegations of human rights violations by Puerto Rican police. In 2006 Mr. Ramirez was detained and questioned by police for more than two hours.

Mr. Ramirez is currently working on systemic criminal justice reform in Puerto Rico in collaboration with the Supreme Court Commission on Access to Justice and the Puerto Rico Open Places Initiative. He is also spearheading a new study of the current state of human rights in Puerto Rico prisons and also the island’s federal detention center.

A 1974 alumnus of the State University of New York at Albany, Mr. Ramirez also holds a Master of Public Administration degree from C.W. Post College of Long Island University, and a law degree from Inter American University School of Law in San Juan. He began his legal career as a Reginald Heber Smith Community Law Fellow at Howard University School of Law, followed by 15 years in a private civil rights law practice, before joining the A.C.L.U. A frequent lecturer at universities, colleges, law schools and professional conferences, Mr. Ramirez has been an adjunct professor at the Inter American University School of Law, a lecturer with the AIDS education faculty at the University of Puerto Rico and the University of South Florida, and has mentored human rights externs from numerous law schools. He was the first president of the Puerto Rico Bar Association’s Commission on Racial Justice, and in 2011 he was honored by the Puerto Rico Bar Association for his civil rights leadership and contributions to Puerto Rican society.

Mr. Ramirez has dedicated his life and work to being an advocate for vulnerable populations, and to reforming the criminal justice agencies on the island of Puerto Rico. For his exemplary and extensive commitment to civil and human rights, and his willingness to challenge overreaching authority on behalf of the disadvantaged, John Jay College of Criminal Justice confers on William Ramirez the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
NATIONAL ANTHEM

*O say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,
O say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*
